WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose two tenths of 1 percent in June to reach a new high.

The Labor Department reported the major factors in the rise were increased prices for used cars, gasoline and household textiles.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, told reporters non-food commodities were the largest factor in the rise, "although food went up to some extent."

He said fruits and vegetables generally rise at this time of year.

After four months of steady rise in the buying power of factory workers in June reached the record levels previously set in June and December of 1959.

Refugee Flow Into Berlin Curtailed

By CARL HARMAN
BERLIN (AP)—A Western official said today tightened control by Communist police has succeeded in cutting down the flow of refugees into West Berlin.

"More people are trying to come now," he said, "but fewer are getting through. It used to be that one was stopped by every two, that made it, but now it's nearer one-for-one."

Other sources, however, minimized the role of police controls in checking the refugee flow. They pointed out that many who planned to flee after school ended July 8 have probably made it by now. A large number of young people are among the refugees.

The official who watches the refugee flow carefully for a Western mission in Berlin, said the numbers arriving are still somewhat above normal even for this peak vacation period.

Over the weekend—Saturday afternoon to Monday afternoon—the arrivals numbered 2,575, but it was nearly 3,000 the weekend before.

The Western official said Communist police seem to be doing everything short of actually stopping trains to check the stream.

Their difficulty is compounded by the fact that Berlin is a main rail transfer point for East Germany and would-be refugees can by tickets within the country then flee when they reach there.

Hundreds of subway and elevated trains go from East Berlin to West Germany everyday, and it is virtually impossible to check every passenger on each one.

In addition to troubles with the youth, the Reds are also having difficulties with farmers who insist they want to get out of collectives.

The Communists tried to convince them that in West Germany farmers are losing their land to rocket bases and military airfields the farmers admitted they do not want this to happen to them "but they would not take back their withdrawal applications."

Neues Deutschland said, "East German farm land was collectivized in the spring of 1960. In theory, any farmer can withdraw. In practice it takes great courage to buck official Communist policy. There have been persistent reports of farmers trying to withdraw—but none that they have actually been permitted to do so."

Western experts blame collectivization for many of the supply difficulties in East Germany that have been helping increase the flow of refugees to the West.

Farmers were promised an eight-hour day, and many of them are taking the promise seriously—even at peak work periods when they are traditionally in the fields from dawn to dusk.

Few Cities in Arkansas Vote Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several hot fights highlight today's Democratic municipal primary elections in Arkansas, in which cities chose mayors and other city officials.

Paragould's five-term incumbent, C. A. Wood, is being opposed by J. Doyle Yopp, a former county official, and J. T. Brown, former manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Guy Brown of Fayetteville has opposition from former Mayor Austin Parish, the man he beat in the 1959 Democratic primary. Pine Bluff Mayor Office Lites is opposed by Alderman Guy Goodman.

At Van Buren, Mayor Allen Toothaker is opposed by Kendal Smith.

Four men are in the race in El Dorado. Mayor Roy Goudy seeks a second term but is opposed by oilman Monroe Hunsicker, Alderman Joe Carroll and David S. Pruitt, a retired federal employee.

At Conway, City Clerk Walter Dunaway runs against butane dealer W. D. Moore for the mayor's job, vacated when Mayor Edgar Parker did not seek reelection.

Another retiring mayor, James Newton of Russellville, watches from the sidelines as C. A. Hughes, a retired Arkansas Tech faculty member, runs against Leomayne Mackey, a restaurant owner.

Runoffs, if needed, will be Aug. 6.

Other mayor's races include: McGeehe; Incumbent Joe C. Crowder and Roy Biddensburg. Morrilton: Virgil D. Poteet and Dr. Thomas H. Hickey.

Newport: Incumbent Bill Duncan and T. J. Walden.

Searcy: Incumbent Leslie Carmichael and Glenn W. Jones.

Files Appeal of Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arnold E. Edens of Paragould has filed an appeal with the Arkansas Supreme Court from prison sentences totaling 17 years for false pretense and overdraft.

Edens was sentenced to 11 years on May 26 for fraudulently obtaining a rice dryer belonging to a Peach Orchard family. He was sentenced to six years for giving one member of the family an overdrawn check for $11,000.

Edens filed only a partial record of the two Grene Circuit Court convictions. A Supreme Court spokesman said the complete record would be filed later.

Kennedy Will Unveil Berlin Plan to Nation

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy unveils to the nation tonight a broad plan for stepping up defense against the Communist threat to Berlin and throughout the world.

In advance of his 9 p. m. EST Radio-TV broadcast, Kennedy scheduled his usual Tuesday morning White House meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

This gave him an opportunity to brief his legislative chiefs on points he will cover in his speech and in a formal message to Congress Wednesday.

Informed sources said Kennedy's strategy was set to provide for a step-by-step Western strengthening as Communist pressures mount on Berlin and a long-term increase in ability to counter the Reds should they turn on the heel elsewhere.

This involves a boost in the U.S. preparedness program above the $43 billion Kennedy has already asked for the military this year, bigger arms contributions by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, and further teamwork among the allies in diplomatic, political and economic tactics.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy himself did most of the speech writing as the President and his aides worked on tonight's address.

Among those stopping off at the White House Monday were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The attendance of Dillard Heller led to speculation that Kennedy might want to raise taxes to cover the expanded program.

The President has been reluctant to seek further taxes, on grounds this slows recovery and the economic pickup already under way will bring in added revenues.

One major item in the Kennedy package is civil defense. Informants said the chief executive wants to raise to around $300 million—triple his present budget—the federal outlays for preparedness against any Soviet attack on the United States. This apparently would include large scale installation of shelters against radioactive fallout from atomic blasts.

Military proposals prepared for White House consideration reportedly included stepping up the regular armed forces by 100,000 men or more, including a couple of Army divisions and a Marine division; a higher state of National Guard and reservists preparedness and some rise in weapons production. The Army now has 14 divisions, the Marines 3.

Formerly a Milkman?

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The information officer at Blytheville Air Force Base ran an informal poll after last Friday's space shot. The question: Who is Virgil Ganssner?

One answer was thought provoking: "He is a real nice guy. He used to be my milkman."

10.67 Inches of Rainfall Hits Dierks

DIERKS, Ark. (AP)—A total of 10.67 inches of rain drenched this southwest Arkansas town Monday, flooding portions of the community and causing eight families to be evacuated for a short time.

City Marshal Robert Moore said there were no injuries and apparently damage was not extensive.

However, some streets were damaged and a roller skating rink and some homes suffered water damage.

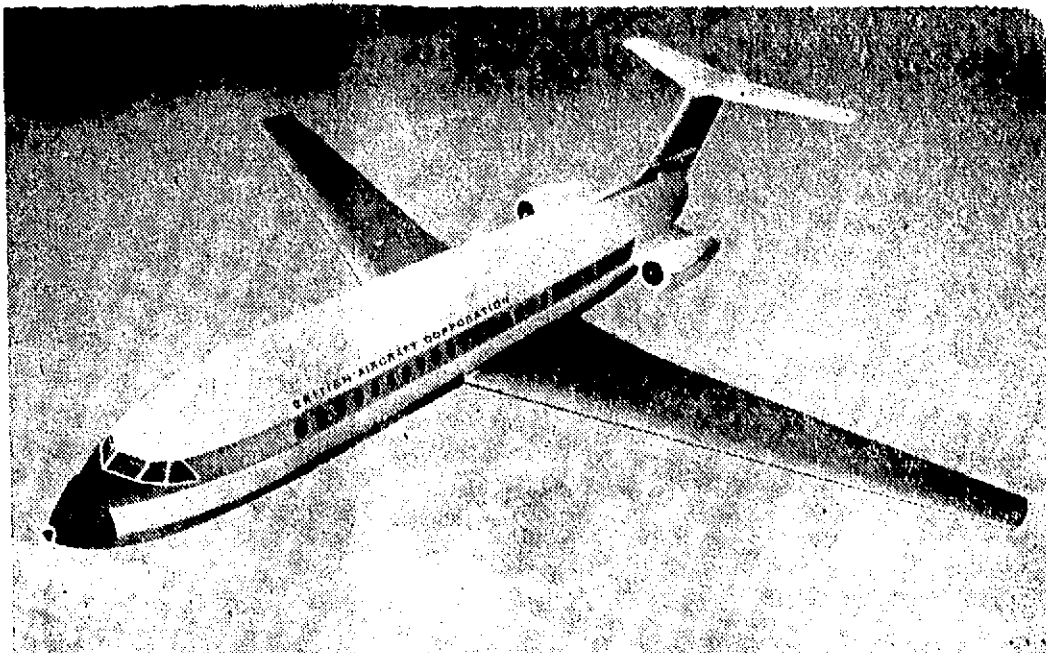

Rock Creek and Holly Creek, both of which run through town, overflowed into yards, washing away fences. The south part of town, traffic was halted for several hours because of high water.

Electricity was knocked out for a few minutes.

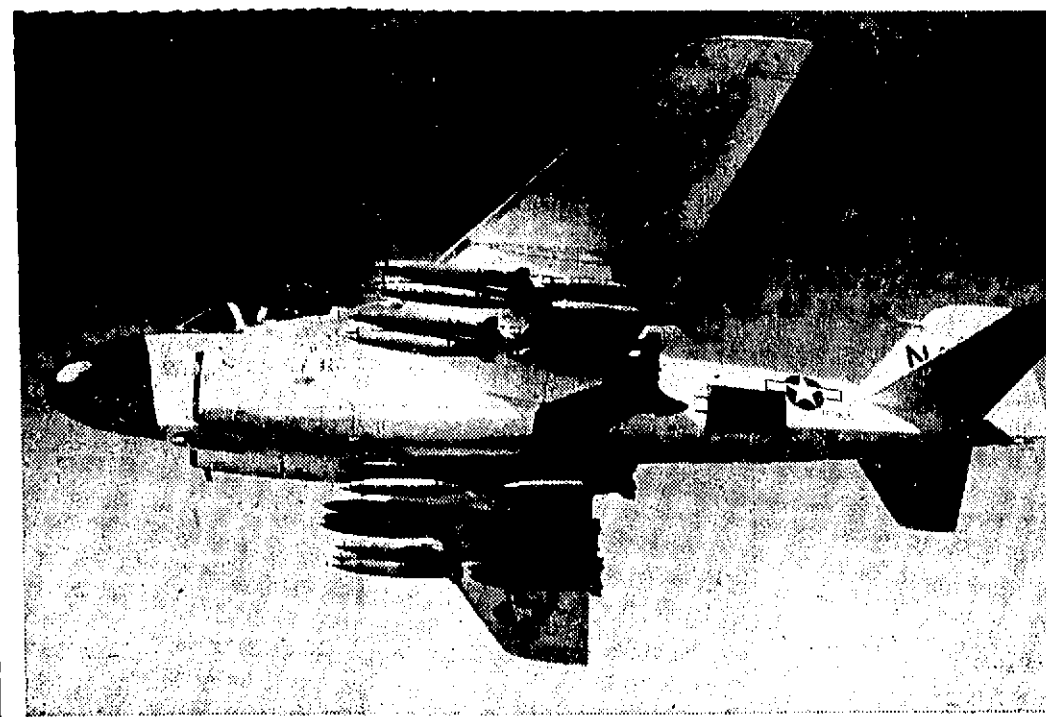

Mud and debris was left in the street and in some homes where the rain stopped and the creeks receded.

Many folks will be going to Texarkana tonight to hear Farm and Ranch Magazine Editor Tom Anderson speak at the Texarkana College at 8 o'clock. There is no admission charge.

Some 30 applicants passed the Arkansas Bar Examination with results of last week's tests being posted yesterday. The group includes: Robert D. Ross, Billy Eugene Pease, and Oscar Albert Graves, Jr., all of Hope.

BRITISH JET—A new jet airliner, the "BAC One-Eleven," shown in drawing above, is now being built by the British Aircraft Corp. Powered by two rear-mounted turbofan engines and designed for short-haul work, the aircraft will cruise at 540 m.p.h. and carry up to 69 passengers. It is described as the jet successor to the Viscount, which is familiar to many American air travelers.

POTENT INTRUDER—The U.S. Navy's newest light attack aircraft, the Grumman A2F-1 Intruder, packs a heavier punch than the B-17 Flying Fortress of World War II fame. The two-place plane carries thirty 500-pound bombs in clusters of three. The all-weather Intruder is designed to take off from an aircraft carrier with its 15,000-pound bomb load. It also carries nuclear weapons.

Mildew Is Found in This Section

Downey mildew, a very serious fungus disease that attacks all cucurbit crops including cucumber, cantaloupe, watermelon, pumpkin, and squash, was found in southwest Arkansas over the weekend.

Under favorable conditions the disease can completely destroy a crop in a matter of three or four days.

Prevention by keeping the plants covered with a fungicide is the most effective measure of control.

Storms Hit Parts of a Wide Area

By HE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stormy weather hit areas in the Midwest and thunderstorms broke out in scattered sections in the East and South today in the wake of heavy downpours in parts of Texas and Arkansas.

Warm and humid weather clung to wide areas in the eastern third of the nation.

Most severe weather during the night was in northern Missouri and central and southern Illinois.

Heavy rain, hail and high winds hit wide sections as a belt of thunderstorms moved into the region. Tornado winds were reported in the Chester, Ill., area south east of St. Louis.

Flash flooding was expected along some rivers and streams in southern Illinois and east-central Missouri.

Thunderstorms also rumbled across extreme southern Indiana and northern Kentucky, in scattered sections in the Northeast and in the west-central Plains states.

Temperatures were 70 or higher in the muggy air in most of the eastern third of the nation excluding the Great Lakes region. Similar readings were reported in the Plains states.

Alford Against Mobilization

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., suggested Monday night that reported plans by President Kennedy to partially mobilize the armed forces is an attempt to grab more power for the federal government.

In a speech to a civic club, Alford said, "Whether the concept of assumption of emergency powers is in good faith or whether it is a conspiratorial quest for the increase of national power, the end result is the same—a dictatorship from Washington."

He said the people for three decades have been deprived of their rights through emergency powers given the federal government.

He said if some forces must be mobilized to meet the Berlin crisis, all should be mobilized in an all-out effort.

He recommended that foreign aid be abolished and the money used to further equip the armed forces.

One Creditor Seizes Six Cuban Planes

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—One reluctant creditor, Erwin Harris of Miami, has snatched six of Fidel Castro's aircraft varying from one-engine crop dusters to a DC3 airliner.

Harris also briefly attached a $3,300,000 jet in which Castro himself flew to New York for a United Nations appearance but Cuba got that plane back.

Not so the DC-3, a C-46 cargo plane, a military Cessna and three crop-dusting planes—all of which were flown to Florida by hijackers or defectors.

Harris also has seized and liquidated huge quantities of food awaiting shipment to Cuba.

The Miami advertising man, armed with a federal court judgment, whittling down a $29,000 debt which the Cuban Tourist Commission incurred for tourist business promotion.

The DC3 was a Cubana Airlines craft diverted by hijackers from an intra-Cuban flight with 20 persons aboard. Fourteen of them asked asylum in the United States when they reached Miami, July 3. Harris earlier had attached a hijacked Cuban C-46 which also landed at Miami.

He got three crop-dusters in one swoop when the duster planes landed in the Florida Keys July 5 carrying four refugees. July 21 a Cuban defector flew a military-marked Cessna to the Keys and it, also was taken by Harris.

British in Interest, Tax Revision

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON (AP)—Britain is holding the bank rate to 7 per cent and increasing purchase and excise taxes by 10 per cent of the existing rates to fight inflation and protect gold and dollar reserves.

Selwyn Lloyd, chancellor of the exchequer, notified the House of Commons of these arrangements today.

The bank rate, which has been 5 per cent, governs interest charges throughout Britain, raising the rate serves to tighten credit.

Castro Releases Passengers of Hijacked Airliner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro today released the passengers and crew of an Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked over Florida and flown to Havana.

Pan American World Airways received word of the Cuban leader's decision from its agent in Havana and put a DC7B and crew on standby at Miami International Airport.

The Swiss embassy in Havana had been trying to arrange for the return to Miami of the passengers and crew. An embassy spokesman said its efforts were hindered because of the Castro revolutionary celebration.

Tentative plans for the airlift called for the PAA plane to take off at 2 p. m. (EST) and return to Miami about two hours later.

Reports from Havana said passengers were generally in good spirits despite delays in unwinding the red tape to allow their release.

No one aboard was hurt when the Eastern Air Lines plane was diverted to Havana Monday. Passengers and crew spent the night at the Havana airport hotel.

Cuban officials said a passenger on the plane seized control because he had been repeatedly forbidden by the U.S. officials to go to Cuba.

No mention was made in a Havana radio account of the fact that the pilot was forced to make the flight here at gunpoint, nor did the radio give the passenger's name. It said he feared reprisals against his relatives in the United States.

The Cuban government seemed to have no objection to allowing the passengers and crew to return promptly, but Swiss diplomats, who handle U.S. affairs here since the break in diplomatic relations found all government offices closed for the celebrations marking the anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution, had delayed the necessary official permission to leave.

A Swiss spokesman said the embassy hoped to get the passengers aboard a Pan American Airlines flight to Miami but a Pan American spokesman said a special flight might have to be arranged. The line's regular flights are jammed with Cuban refugees.

The Eastern Air Lines prop-jet Electra was on a flight from Miami to Tampa, New Orleans and Dallas with 33 passengers and a crew of five Monday when an unidentified passenger pulled a gun and forced the pilot to fly to Havana.

Prime Minister Castro was said to have no objections to returning the passengers and crew as soon as arrangements could be made.

His government reportedly intends, however, to hold the plane unless the United States turns over six Cuban planes that have been seized in Florida to satisfy a legal judgment against the Cuban regime.

The passengers and crew were being held under close police guard and newsmen were prevented from talking to them. Reporters saw them from a distance when they landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport. No one appeared to have been injured in the incident.

One of the passengers was Luis Rodriguez, No. 1 contender for the world welterweight boxing championship. He was en route to Dallas for a fight Thursday night with Curtis Cokes.

Because the Foreign Ministry was closed for the anniversary festivities, the Swiss Embassy said it also had not been able to present a U.S. demand for return of the plane and the personnel which the State Department rushed to Havana as soon as it was informed of the incident.

Switzerland has represented the U.S. government in Cuba since Havana and Washington severed diplomatic relations.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Florida was the first to sense something wrong aboard the Electra when the agency's radar scope showed the plane make a sharp turn off course about 20 miles southwest of Pahoehoe, Fla.

The agency's report was picked up by the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) at Colorado Springs, Colo., and the Homestead, Fla. Air Force Base was ordered to send up a fighter to intercept the $81-million airliner.

Dag in Tunisia to Try to End Bloodshed

By RODNEY ANGOVE

TUNIS (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld continues talks today with Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba seeking ways to ease the bitter tension left by the bloodshed at Bizerte.

Hammarskjöld had a three-hour session Monday night with Bourguiba which a Tunisian official described as exploratory.

The U.N. chief was tight-lipped when he emerged from Bourguiba's seaside summer palace 10 miles outside the capital. His only comment to newsmen was that he had not scheduled a visit to the city of Bizerte, which the French in four days of bloody fighting captured before a cease-fire call from the U.N. Security Council stopped the shooting.

The secretary-general, who described the crisis as "a matter of urgency," was reported to have told officials he could not foresee how many days his mission would take. U.N. sources in New York said Hammarskjöld was expected to return Thursday.

A Tunisian delegation source at U.N. headquarters in New York said another Security Council session on Bizerte was virtually certain late this week.

The Tunisians accused France of flouting the council's resolution, which also called on both sides to return to their prebattle positions in Bizerte. French government sources have said France would not pull back until the Tunisian government guarantees her free communications to and between the various installations of her huge naval and air base at Bizerte.

Bourguiba has demanded that France give up the base immediately and also give Tunisia a piece of the French-held Sahara. The fighting erupted last week after the Tunisians laid siege to the land approaches to the base and sent a flag-planting expedition into the Sahara beyond the Tunisian border.

The French and Tunisians continued to swap charges and still had not agreed on a site for meeting to negotiate a permanent cease-fire.

20 Per Cent of Time Used in Dreaming

By HAL BOYLE

You may think you never dream—but you do. Everyone spends up to 20 per cent or more of his sleeping hours dreaming. If you have a high intelligence quotient, you dream more.

Some people mistakenly think a stigma is attached to being fingerprinted, but as a matter of fact, only one in five of the 152 million fingerprints in the FBI files belongs to a criminal or crime suspect.

How helpful are you around the house? A survey found 83 per cent of husbands now assist their wives with chores ranging from shopping to bed-making and dish-washing. But about one in six men resolutely proclaimed they refused to do "women's work."

Getting away from it all may make your ulcer worse rather than better. Doctors have found many normally active men often become more tense when frustrated by enforced rest away from their work.

Federal income taxes take more than seven times as much out of the average wage earner's dollar today than in 1941.

Gen. U.S. Grant was one of the least musical of U.S. presidents. "I know only two tunes," he once remarked dryly. "One of them is 'Yankee Doodle,' and the other isn't."

Upcoming soon: A new printing ink which promises to make newspapers smudge-proof. That could be one of the biggest boons to reading since the invention of the alphabet.

Wise-crack of the week: "Ah, for the good old days," sighs Walter Slezak, "when the only kids who saved up to buy knives were Boy Scouts!"

The first "credit cards" were probably rags worn by 13th century German knights and entered with their family coat of owners as men of worth. billed them later for their charges so they wouldn't have to carry money on the robber-infested highways. The penalty for counterfeiting a family ring: Death.

Pony Express riders—like airline pilots now—were among the elite of their day. They earned from $100 to $150 a month, plus rations of bacon, beans and buffalo steak.

Money for Civil Defense Possibility

By SERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—With public concern over civil defense sharpening, officials think Congress may be induced at last to provide a vital ingredient—money, in big quantities.

When mayors, governors and local civil defense officials call for "more vigorous federal leadership," it usually means they want Uncle Sam to put up the money that overburdened city treasuries cannot provide.

The Kennedy administration has accepted the view that the job is worth doing and that the government must foot much of the bill to get a national shelter program going.

In three long sentences, here is the threat, the problem it presents, and the administration's proposed start toward a solution.

The hazard: In a successful surprise nuclear assault by missiles and bombers, 70 million Americans might be exposed to death or disability by blast, radiation and fallout, while panic, confusion and hunger might be spread through much of the surviving population.

The problem: To save as many as possible—perhaps half of the 70 million in the prime danger zones—from the wind-borne radiation-laden dust which is called fallout and which might reach 75 to 80 per cent of the white land area; this would leave about 150 million Americans still alive to work and fight.

President Kennedy's recommended solution: With some $200 million to be provided on top of the $100 million already asked to start surveying, marking and improving potential shelters in existing apartment houses, office buildings, schools, dormitories, factories and warehouses; to install shelters in new and old federal structures and to match state and local funds for shelters in local public buildings.

With such a concentration of shelter zones across the country it would be possible to protect virtually the entire populations of those cities which are spared from actual nuclear blasts, officials believe. A preliminary survey indicates, for instance, that Kansas City Mo., could be made relatively safe from fallout without any new construction.

This implies that stocks of food and medical supplies would be on hand. Providing them will take FIRE'S FEARFUL RECORD—Fire and lightning caused aggregate property loss in the United States of approximately $6.75 billion, 1953 through 1959, according to National Board of Fire Underwriters, News-Graphic, above, charts only those reported fires where it's been possible to determine the cause. Staggering though the loss may be, fire prevention authorities state that they believe fire prevention activities have held down the real loss as contrasted with the dollar loss, in which is reflected the inflationary factor on value of the dollar.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By HE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1886, the first U.S. flag made of domestic materials was raised over the Capitol in Washington, D.C. Flags had previously been made of English bunting.

On this date:

In 1621, the London Co. granted the Virginia Colony a written constitution.

In 1701, Antoine De La Mothe Cadillac began the settlement of Detroit.

In 1946, the first underwater test of the atomic bomb was made off Bikini Atoll in the Pacific.

In 1952, President Truman commuted the death sentence of Oscar Colozzo to life imprisonment—two years after Colozzo had tried to assassinate Truman at the Blair House in Washington.

Ten years ago, flood waters began receding in the Kansas-Missouri-Oklahoma area after cresting at nearly 42 feet near Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Five years ago, floods in central and southern Iran reportedly took 900 lives and made thousands homeless.

Tiny Ozark Town Gets on the Map

GASSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The U.S. Commerce Department has put this tiny Ozark Mountain town on the map by granting it the nation's first project under the new Area Redevelopment Act.

Gassville, whose single paved street is U.S. Highway 62, will get a federal loan of $31,000 and a grant of $125,000 to help pay for a water system vital to a new industry. The grant was announced Monday.

The Ozark Shirt Co. is building a $170,000 plant here to employ 1,000 from a four-county area in the manufacture of men's shirts. Its $2.5-million annual payroll will give the area's sagging economy a vital boost.

Gassville's population is 233 and its business section consists of three general stores, a post office and two antique shops. Many of its people are retired.

"But we're proud people today," said Mayor Harry Jovett, 70, a retired circuit-riding Methodist minister. "Now we've got what it takes to develop our town and give our young people jobs at home where they belong."

The town is in Baxter County in the north-central section of the state 20 miles south of the Missouri border.

Crowd Hurls Protests to Parking Fee

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An angry, jeering crowd of 2,000 persons hurled rocks and eggs and shouted profanity at Mayor Richardson Dilworth Monday night as he tried to defend his controversial $40-a-year parking fee plan.

Several persons reportedly were injured, including Councilman Gaetano P. Giordano, who opposes the plan. Giordano, a Democrat as is Dilworth represents the South Philadelphia district where the mayor wants to set up the experimental plan. He pleaded for the crowd to hear the mayor out. He suffered a cut eye when hit by either a rock or flying glass in the school auditorium where the mayor spoke.

Some of the crowd smashed the rear window of a police car in which two boys who had been arrested were placed. Several persons smashed five windows of the car of Edward Lain, 21, a newsman for television station WRCV.

All available highway patrolmen were sent to reinforce 40 regular officers who had been detailed to the meeting.

Dilworth, his wife standing by him, declared that he was "going to say what I've come to say regardless of what you do."

"Down with Dilworth," shouted the crowd.

The mayor shouted himself hoarse and never did finish his prepared text in which he defended his plan by saying that "the problem with which we are faced is the problem of the automobile threatening to engulf our city."

Protests have mounted since Dilworth announced his plan for an area covering 16 streets. Car owners would have to pay the fee to park their cars either on the streets or in a municipal parking lot. Parking is free in the area now, but prohibited on one side of the street.

Marine Freed in Race Case

MEMPHIS (AP)—A young marine accused of tossing itching powder on the heads of two Negro sit-in demonstrators was freed of a disorderly conduct charge in City Court Monday.

Five witnesses testified that Charles W. Morgan III, 18, of the Memphis Naval Air Station, did not throw the powder.

Another white man forfeited $26 when he failed to appear in court. Robert Potter, 30, was accused of throwing coffee into a Negro demonstrator's face during a sit-in at another downtown store.

Trouble in Africa

SALISBURY Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Policemen rode all houses in industrial Bulawayo and troops stood by throughout Southern Rhodesia today as Africans started a strike that was successful in some industries but only partially so in numerous others.

A general strike was called by African political extremists in protest against the government-sponsored referendum Wednesday on the new constitution for Southern Rhodesia.

Told Cubans to Hijack 5 More Planes

NEW YORK (AP)—New York police said today they were told supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro planned to hijack five commercial planes here today and fly them to Havana.

The plot was reported to the police by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It called for placing two gunmen aboard each of the five planes and divert them to Cuba.

Police said the airlines involved were Eastern, National and Northeast.

A gunman hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane Monday and forced the pilot at gunpoint to fly to Haana. Thirty-three passengers and five crewmen were aboard.

Police said the FBI told them that members of the pro-Castro movement met Sunday night here at the Casa Cuba and made plans for 10 men, all armed, to board the airlines some time today either here or in Tampa, Fla.

The FBI also notified the Port of New York Authority, which operates airports here and the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Troublesome Hereford Dies at Age of 18

By NORMAN ROWLAND

YUKON, Okla. (AP)—Grady the cow, a 1,200-pound Hereford who jumped through a 17 by 25½ inch silo feed door into national prominence 12 years ago died Monday not far from the silo where she spent four confusing days.

Her owner, Bill Mach, said the 18-year old cow "just got tired and died of old age." Mach found Grady dead in her corral on his ranch Monday night.

Grady jumped into the silo on Washington's Birthday in 1949, after having a hard time giving birth to a calf which died.

For the next four days, Grady paced inside the silo. John Randolph, Associated Press staff member at Oklahoma City at the time and now AP general executive for Asia, was one of the first reporters on the scene.

From the time Randolph wrote "hi diddle diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped into the silo," until Grady oozed her way out of her prison the 6-year old bovine held the nation's attention.

Before Grady was freed, Mach heard from folks in 45 states and several foreign countries.

There were numerous suggestions including a block of advocates of greasing Grady so she could squirt through the opening once a little pressure was applied from behind.

The greasers won. Ralph Partridge, Denver Post farm editor, flew here and smeared the fidgety cow with about 10 pounds of axle grease. A veterinarian gave her a sedative to calm her nerves.

A lariat was looped around her de-horned head and manpower was supplied from behind. After a few minutes, Grady caught on, wiggled her hips a couple of times and squeezed through.

Grady settled down, lived quietly afterwards and gave birth to several healthy calves.

She also stayed away from silos.

Crime Also Increased in Arkansas

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Serious crime in Arkansas last year increased about 4½ per cent over 1959, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

This increase was considerably below the national increase of 14.2 per cent.

The FBI report, based on reports by local police and sheriffs, showed that the number of serious crimes in Arkansas rose from 9,906 in 1959 to 10,355 in 1960. The increase in the rate of these crimes per 100,000 inhabitants was from 558.9 in 1959 to 579.7 in 1960.

Serious crime, under FBI definitions, includes murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible burglary, larceny and auto theft in Arkansas there were increases in five categories, — forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, and larceny over $50. Murder and non-negligent manslaughter and auto theft decreased.

FBI totals two years in Arkansas were:

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 184 in 1959 and 154 in 1960; forcible rape 139 and 156; robbery 446 and 447; aggravated assault 910 and 1,013; burglary 4,691 and 4,893; larceny 2,593 and 2,861; auto theft 943 and 831.

The FBI reported that larger cities in Arkansas reported serious crimes in 1960 as follows:

Little Rock: criminal homicide 63; forcible rape 5; robbery 79; aggravated assault 28; burglary 509; larceny-theft 2,193; and auto theft 214.

Fort Smith — 5; 1; 8; 32; 231; 677. (auto theft figures not complete).

North Little Rock — 8, 2, 59, 29, 229, 795; 101.

El Dorado — 5; 4; 4; 106; 114; 233; 16.

Hot Springs — 4; 1; 18; 0; 303; 551; 53.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story
ROPE'S END DANCE
By LESER ARNO

It was an unruly truculent group. The most evil looking of them spoke first.

"I'm a Bull, first of the great hangmen. In 1533 I hanged 10 men in one day! As the most prominent of our craft I speak first. What has man come to? This century executes without style!"

A short, stocky chap brandished a huge ax.

"I am Derrick. You well remember that I severed the head of the Earl of Essex from the rest of him!"

A murmur of recognition stirred through the group.

Two bearded men stepped forward.

"Gregory Brandon," said the first. "Robert Brandon," said the second. "Son of a great father who executed Charles I."

Several heads bowed deferentially.

A burly fellow elbowed his way through.

"Lord Russell, the Duke of Monmouth and untold lesser necks bent to my will. From me came the name by which all hangmen are known, Jack Ketch!"

Ketch stood proudly while his fellows applauded.

"From me came the name from which all hangmen are known, Jack Ketch!"

"Now, enough of bragging. Step forward and call yourselves out!" Ketch commanded.

They formed a line and obeyed the command. "Jock Sutherland . . . Squire Dun . . . Rose, the Butcher . . . Edward Dennis, Charles Dickens wrote of me . . . Thomas a Cheshire, sometimes called 'Old Cheese' . . . William Hallcraft, first hangman to be appointed officially and then pensioned off."

Three men came forward.

"Capeluche, headman of Paris during the terrible days of the Armagnacs and the Burgundians," proudly announced the first.

"We are the brothers Sanson. We need only mention the French Revolution and the guillotine. Between us we required no one else."

Suddenly, a tall, dark man shouted from the rear, "Be done with braggadocio. I alone among you brought to a clumsy craft a work of art. William Marwood, my peers, who brought to hanging 'the long drop.'"

A reverential silence fell upon the group.

"We are met to consider what has happened to us," Marwood continued. "Where once the people gathered to see our handiwork, today stones and steel bars keep them away. Once the poets sang of us, today our skills have been stripped and the executed is spoken of in the stories that are related. With your indulgence, I recall but a few verses dedicated to us when to be a hangman was to be famous."

"Beaumont and Fletcher wrote: 'Three merry boys, and three merry boys, As ever did sing in a hempen string Under the gallows-tree. 'Thomas Hood inscribed: 'For next to that interesting job The hanging of Jack, or Bill or

Governor in Defense of His Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs today, in effect, approved the appearance before them of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

In the same action they also gave a vote of confidence to Miss Fannie Hardy of Little Rock their president.

The Arkansas governor spoke at the opening session of the meeting Sunday night at the invitation of Miss Hardy, who is assistant state insurance commissioner.

The printed convention program was put before the delegates for approval at the first business session today. Mrs. Isabella Jones, leader of the Pennsylvania delegation, offered an amendment that would add to the program approval of these words: "With the exception of that portion of the program listing an address by Gov. Orval Faubus."

Her motion to expunge the listing of the Faubus address drew only 357 votes against 776 for letting the program stand.

Mrs. Jones called Faubus "one of the most controversial figures."

Mrs. Kathryn King, president of the New York Federation, said the national organization "can ill afford to lose the prestige which this man's appearance at the convention will cause."

Judge Libby Sachor of New Jersey called upon delegates to speak out on the governor who, had used "the force of his state office" to oppose the U.S. Supreme Court ruling on segregation in public schools.

Fannie Beard of Arkansas asserted that Arkansas had been grossly misrepresented. She invited the delegates to visit her state and told them: "You have the wrong conception."

A spokesman said that the president traditionally has the power to invite speakers to appear at the convention. Miss Hardy told delegates that her invitation to Faubus had been approved by the federation's executive committee.

Faubus was given a police guard, but no trouble occurred. While he spoke in defense of his record in government to 5,000 delegates, 30 Negroes and white persons picketed the convention hotel.

Faubus departed from his prepared text and announced that "Arkansas is happy to employ talented persons, regardless of race, creed or sex—including Negroes."

He told the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs that he recently named two Negroes to boards and commissions having to do with administration of educational programs in Arkansas. He did not name the appointees.

The governor's off-the-cuff remarks were in reference to a preceding speech by Michael J. Howlett, Illinois state auditor. Howlett was applauded when he said that in business and professional occupations, "discrimination for reasons of race and color always has been a more serious problem than discrimination for reasons of sex."

It is unfair to close out Negroes from opportunity to practice a profession with the simple argument that "They don't come up to our standards." The bleak truth is that they have been deprived of a chance to prepare for them," Howlett said.

Showing irritation, Faubus said: "Since it has been brought up, we are happy to have talented persons working in state organizations. I recently appointed two Negroes to education boards and commissions. We want the use of people with talent regardless of race, creed or sex."

As he talked, pickets marched in front of the Conrad-Hilton Hotel bearing signs directed at Faubus.

Faubus spoke of his record as governor, saying the real reason he was elected was because of the services he has rendered to the state.

"I have an abiding faith in my people. I know their problems and we are trying to work out the little details. We find ourselves yielding to the abuses of minority groups," he said.

"The American people should be tolerant, but not tolerant of everything. We must stop taxing the working man to pay for the comfort of the sinful and the lazy—the people who can work but who refuse."

Similarity in Kennedy, Roosevelt

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—By the time President Kennedy finishes his TV and radio talk to the nation Tuesday night those who remember President Roosevelt, granddaddy of the fireside chat, will compare the two men.

This is inevitable, but it is too soon for solid appraisals. There are similarities between them. But there are also sharp contrasts. The problems they inherited are very different.

In a flip moment years ago Gertrude Stein called Ezra Pound a "village explainer." In these confused times a president must be a national explainer and a persuader, too, if he wants public support.

Roosevelt had an instinct for this. Kennedy has seemed hesitant about it.

Theodore H. White, a reporter who last year covered both the primary and presidential campaigns and has now written an excellent book about them—"The Making of the President 1960"—says:

"Franklin D. Roosevelt, more than any other president, could exert American influence on the great outer world because he knew how to mobilize the internal politics of America to support America's purpose. A president governing the United States can move events only if he can first persuade."

Roosevelt had a beginning advantage over Kennedy in leadership. He was governor of New York before he was president. It was while he was governor that he began his fireside chats to New Yorkers and found they worked.

No wonder he made quick use of the technique in the White House. He had his first national fireside chat at the end of his first week in the presidency, assuring people their money in the closed banks was secure.

Kennedy has been on TV many times since January but his first direct talk to the people didn't come until June 6. This was mostly limited to a report on his Vienna meeting with Premier Khrushchev.

Tuesday night's talk will be the first in the classic tradition of explaining and persuading. This, unlike Roosevelt's first talk on financial security, will be on national security: dealing with Russia.

In contrast, Kennedy had his programs pretty well organized in tick-tack-toe order to offer Congress. But where Roosevelt was bold and experimented, Kennedy is conservative and, so far, cautious in dealing with Congress—so much so that at this time

Big Day Set in Helena Dedication

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Thursday is the biggest day in the history of this Mississippi River city.

In three well-planned ceremonies, Helena will dedicate a new power plant and federal building and help dedicate a new $14 million bridge across the Mississippi River.

For the first time, motorists will be able to cross the Mississippi somewhere between Memphis and Greenville, Miss., without using a ferry.

Charles Halbert, who has operated a ferry here for many years will make his final run across the river Wednesday night.

Govs. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and Ross Barnett of Mississippi will join in dedicating the bridge. With them will be U.S. representatives, two senators, Arkansas Highway Commission Chairman Orry Parkin and Roy Adams, highway commissioner for Mississippi's north district.

The big bridge lacks four inches being a mile long. It will be paid for by toll revenue. Tolls will range from 50 cents for motorcycles to $4.50 for large vehicles. Passenger cars must pay $1. But there will be no tolls Thursday.

At least 5,000 visitors are expected for the three programs Thursday, and the total crowd, counting Helena and area residents is expected to reach 25,000.

The new Arkansas Power & Light generating plant cost $44 million and the federal building and post office cost $11.1 million.

A parade through the beautifully decorated town will come between the bridge and AP&L dedications, Arkansas Democratic Sens. J. W. Fulbright and John McClellan will speak at the power plant dedication, though Faubus will do the dedicating.

Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., will dedicate the federal building. Other Arkansas representatives to be on hand are Dale Alford and Catherine Norrell, Reps. J. L. White and Frank Smith of Mississippi will be on hand.

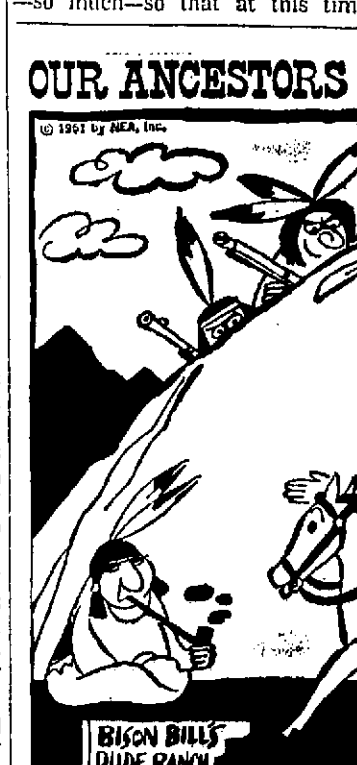

The new bridge will be opened to Mississippi traffic prior to the dedication so Mississippians can get over to the ceremony on the Arkansas side of the river.

Because there were only two games in the major leagues Monday night we will have a combined major league roundup.

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer led the league-leading Detroit Tigers to a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels in the American League Monday night as streaking Frank Robinson hit a homer, double and single to pace Cincinnati's National League lead-steers to a 9-3 rout of Milwaukee.

Colavito, taking over where slugging teammate Norm Cash left off Sunday, batted his homer in the sixth inning to give the Tigers their third straight victory. The win at Los Angeles stretched Detroit's lead to one full game over the idle New York Yankees. Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer in the ninth led the triumph for Jim Bunning (11-7) and the Tigers.

Robinson, making a tremendous bid for the National's triple crown—batting, homers and runs batted in— and the most valuable player award, stretched his hitting streak to 19 games, a league high for the season.

This was the streaky Reds' third straight win and fattened their league lead over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to two games. It blunted the surge of the Braves who had won five straight and nine of their last ten games and dropped them 9½ games back of the Reds.

These were the only two regular championship games as most of the major leagues took time out for the annual Hall of Fame contest at Cooperstown, N.Y. The Dodgers bombed the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2, in the exhibition.

Cash is leading the American League in batting (.300) and RBI (91) and is tied for fifth in homers with 27 in his bid for MVP laurels. Colavito is tied for fourth in RBI with 86 fourth in homers with 28 and is batting .293. Mickey Mantle is third in batting (.333), first in homers (37) and tied with Colavito in RBI. Roger Maris is second in homers (36), third in RBI (83) and is batting .272.

Robinson, who stretched his consecutive batting streak to 19 games—a National League high for the season—took over the NL's first place in homers (29) and RBI (87), and closed in on batting leader Roberto Clemente with a .349 mark to the Pirates' .358.

The Tigers were trailing 1-0 when Colavito blasted his homer off Jim Donohue (4-4), a former Detroit right hander. The Angels scored one run in the first on Leon Wagner's sacrifice fly and the other in the seventh on a walk, two singles and an error.

Cash opened the second with a triple but was stranded. In the ninth he walked and scored on McAuliffe's fifth homer. Al Kaline, another roaring Tiger, singled to extend his batting streak to 17 games.

Wally Post (11) and Leo Cardenas (4) joined Robinson in the home run bombardment against Warren Spahn and reliever Tony Cloninger. Robby's two-run homer in the seventh gave Jay a fat 5-2 margin to work on.

It was Jay's third victory (no defeats) over his former teammates and his second over Spahn.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

Tracksters Getting Over Injuries

WARSAW (AP) — The medical report on the crippled United States track team which meets Poland here this weekend began to improve today.

Ten poles were almost as happy about it as United States coach Jim Elliott.

"We don't want to go against a team that has a lot of injuries," said one Polish athletic official. "We have been hearing about the troubles the Americans have been having and have been hoping that they would come around."

"If we lose, we want to lose to a healthy team and if we win, we want to beat the best."

At the moment, 10 members of Elliott's 40-man squad are ill or injured. Hop, step and jumper Bill Sharpe's leg was so bad he was sent home Monday.

The only one who might miss the meet, however, is javelin thrower John Fromm, who has had a bad pull in his right side.

The team will have six days rest between the Great Britain and Polish meets and that should help considerably. Last week the squad defeated the Russians 13-0, the West Germans 14-6 and Great Britain 13-7.

Robinson, who stretched his consecutive batting streak to 19 games—a National League high for the season—took over the NL's first place in homers (29) and RBI (87), and closed in on batting leader Roberto Clemente with a .349 mark to the Pirates' .358.

FOOD FISH

Either you like fish or you don't—and the reasons usually have to do with how they are handled.

Fish, unlike meat, cannot be disguised easily. Even buried in sauce, heavily seasoned, and sloshed in wine, fish are fish. And if they aren't prepared correctly, woe unto the cook!

The principal difference between fish and other meat is simply: fish don't age very well. In fact, only freshly-caught or freshly frozen fish are fit for the table. The rest are cat food.

Trout should be killed and gutted promptly when caught, and kept in cool, wet burlap. If not eaten immediately, give the quick freeze treatment.

Panfish should go into a mesh bag, live well or live box. If the water is warm, bury them in a box of chipped ice.

Bass, pike and other large freshwater fish can be put on a stringer if the water is cold. Otherwise, they should be killed, gutted and wrapped in cold, wet burlap or quick-chilled in chipped ice at once.

All warm water fish take well to deep freezing. However, they should be filleted, packaged and frozen soon after they are caught and not left hanging on a stringer all day. Most game fish except trout should be skinned, not scaled.

Experts chefs recommend frying fillets in deep, hot shortening or oil. However, most good cooks prefer fish broiled or baked in foil or a casserole dish. Best results are had by cooking them simply and quickly. Serve 'em hot with a slice of lemon, a dash of melted butter, and . . . say, where did all those fish haters go?

Travelers Overpower Macon 8-3

Birmingham, enjoying robust health now that The Monster is well again, was back on top of the Southern Association today.

The Monster, of course, is big Stan Palys and the nickname was affectionately hung on the husky outfielder while he was on his way to a second league batting championship last season.

Injuries have hampered big Stan this season, but he's still challenging the leaders in runs batted in, and that's where he excelled Monday night. Palys knocked in three runs with a single and a pair of sacrifice flies as the Barons retained the league lead with a 6-1 victory over Shreveport. Atlanta knocked Chattanooga out of first place 3-2. Little Rock overpowered Macon 8-3 and Nashville trounced Mobile 8-5 in 10 innings.

Midwest Is Little Loop Title Winner

Midwest Dairy took the local Little League title last Friday night, ending the season with a 13 and 2 record. Standing only one very close game behind was Pop Kola with a 12-3 record. Midwest is managed by Bob West. Last year's champions, managed by L. D. Martin.

CBC, always a contender, managed by "Dusty Rhodes" finished third with 7 wins and 3 losses. Last year's champions, managed by Brint Odum was fourth with a 6-9 record.

Rounding out the standings is Coleman Dairy, last year's runner-up, managed by Larry Cox, with 4 wins and 11 losses and the Lions, managed by James Halford, with a 3 and 12 record.

Midwest and Pop Kola, having gone through several years of building a top ball club came up strong this season to crack off some of the top teams, such as Owens, Coleman and CBC, who were hurt badly this season by the loss of some top boys through graduation in 1960. The Lions, playing this season with a group of very promising youngsters, should come up strong in the next couple of seasons, so things may be different in 1962.

The Little League All Stars will play Smackover here Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the first game of the Area 4 Tournament. If Hope wins, the winner of the Cressett-Monticello game on the same night will travel here for the finals on Friday night. If Smackover wins, the District 4B winner will play at Smackover on Friday night.

MONKEY WENCH — It seems a lot of monkey business, but Mickey, a female monkey, was trained by six Washington psychologists who form Animalated, Inc. The corporation not only rents out the animals, but designs and builds promotional exhibits which the animals operate. Shown, above, is a demonstration of her musical "skills." A product of classical conditioning, Mickey, who has a complete wardrobe of furs and cocktail dresses, is rented out to cocktail parties where she becomes hostess. She manages to amble around balancing trays of martinis—she never spills a drop.
